

Conference Report 2010
Kevin Cribb

Summary

What do I want my congregation to know about this session of Annual Conference?

Of it's importance for our votes in all areas concerning good and fair communication for the body of the United Methodist Church and the financial matters and decisions we all take for granted. Knowing each church really had a voice. To be open for change and to be prepared for sacrifice as God calls us to do so.

What special occasion did I attend that meant most to me?

The "Retiring of Ministers". Rev. Quay Adams for one. To see the many faces that had served for years have to say good bye for I'm sure good reason, but very sad to think of people whom had been saved by the important work God has bestowed upon them. I was very proud to be in the same room.

What makes me proud to be a United Methodist?

I first think of why. It was my parents and then I grew to know the people in the Church. I was married – then our children. Now I'm growing closer to God with a large church family. I'm very proud to be a United Methodist.

What decision will people hear about that may disturb them?

Churches can die. We voted toward an end to a small church that could no longer hang on.

How do I feel about it?

I have to leave it in God's hands.
